Authors Guidelines

All submissions are required to comply strictly with the following guidelines:

1. Authors are required to submit an electronic version of the manuscript in MS-Word, with font type of Times New Roman, font size of 12, typed 1.5 line spacing and restricted to maximum of 15 pages including references and appendices.
2. The first page of the manuscript text should contain the title of the manuscript, author(s) full name(s) with surname coming last in CAPS and affiliation(s), contact address (including functional e-mail and telephone numbers). Manuscript should indicate the correspondent author in case of multiple authors. The manuscript text should start with the abstract and introduction.
3. Abstract should not be more than 250 words showing clearly, the purpose, methods, findings conclusion and recommendations. The abstract should be written in simple language devoid of any technical or statistical indices. The abstract should include five (5) key words and the relevant JEL classifications.
4. The manuscript should be divided into five (5) distinct sections as follows: (1) Introduction, (2) Literature Review, (3) Methodology, (4) Results and Discussion, and (5) Conclusion and recommendations.
5. Conclusion should be made up of the actual conclusion while recommendations or policy implications, to be listed out, should derive from specific findings.
6. In-text Citations and References must follow the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th edition). References should be typed single line spacing within a reference, and double line spacing between references.
7. Copyright: Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyrighted materials from other sources and are required to sign an agreement for the transfer of copyright to the publisher. All accepted manuscripts become the property of the publisher. Furthermore, the Turnitin software will be used to check for levels of plagiarism and AI use. Plagiarism score for articles published in the AJOSMAS must not exceed 20%. For details on AI, see AJOSMAS AI Policy.

AJOSMAS AI Policy

AJOSMAS upholds UNESCO's principles on AI ethics and promotes responsible AI use in research. While AI may aid in non-data image editing, editing, and literature summarization, any AI use must be declared upon submission, including tool details and prompts. Undeclared or hidden AI use is treated as an ethical breach. For clarification we have two categories: prohibited and accepted uses.

Prohibited Uses: We reject using AI to write or generate manuscript content or create data images.
Accepted Uses (with disclosure): Study design, editing, and summarizing content, modifying non-data images.

accepted Uses (no disclosure needed): Grammar checks, similarity checks, and reference management.

Reviewers and editors are equally responsible for ethical AI use, with all tools subject to confidentiality and disclosure requirements as appropriate.

Editor's Message

Dear Reader

The Volume 3 Issue 1 of your darling biennial publication, Achievers Journal of Social and Management Sciences (AJOSMAS), is here again. In this edition, national issues like whistle blowing, fraud reporting mechanisms and forensic accounting techniques; strategic human resource management; petrodollar politics and the United States' invasion of Venezuela-lessons for Nigeria; celebrity endorsements, social media advertising and interpersonal enlightenment campaigns, among other interesting articles are featured.

Our deep appreciation goes to our contributors and our team of reviewers drawn across disciplines and nationalities. As usual, the papers in this Issue can also be accessed on <https://ajosmas.org> and hard copy on demand. We confirm that these articles have made the list of the few that passed the rigour of peer review and plagiarism check. Enjoy your reading.
